

STORYteller

Jeff Stockton

Storytelling with Jeff Stockton

“I think that when he was a little kid, he knew there were stories in his blood so he grew his confidence to share his stories.”

~Hailey

“It was like there were two doors on my face to my imagination. He opened them up and then I was inside the story!”

~Paige

*“I loved how he plays the harp
when there is travelling in the story.*

There is rhythm like when I say ‘walking, walking, walking’ in my story.”

~ Bronwyn

“It really was a fabulous experience and both my boys really grew in their confidence as writers and speakers. I really feel the work that one of my boys did with the lunch time sessions with Jeff, helped him to see himself as a writer through the storytelling – a big accomplishment. He now wants to become a movie director – largely due to this positive experience.”

Parent

“It was wonderful to see the kids perform. I feel the art of imagination and content development critical to future educational success. I was volunteering one day in Kindergarten when Jeff Stockton was in and he really was amazing with the children.”

Parent

“We fall into the stories he tells.”

~ Abby

tell us stories

JOYFUL PLAYERS
ENGAGING POWERFUL DELIGHTFUL WONDERS
ASPIRES INCREDIBLE
DELICIOUS

ONCE UPON A

THOUGHT PRO

INSPIRING ASTO

IMAGINATIVE

EDGES OF

ADVENTURE

EMERGE

PHENOMENON
PLAYFUL LAU

NOURISHING

THEORY OF WORK

UNBELIEVABLE

UNWITTINGLY

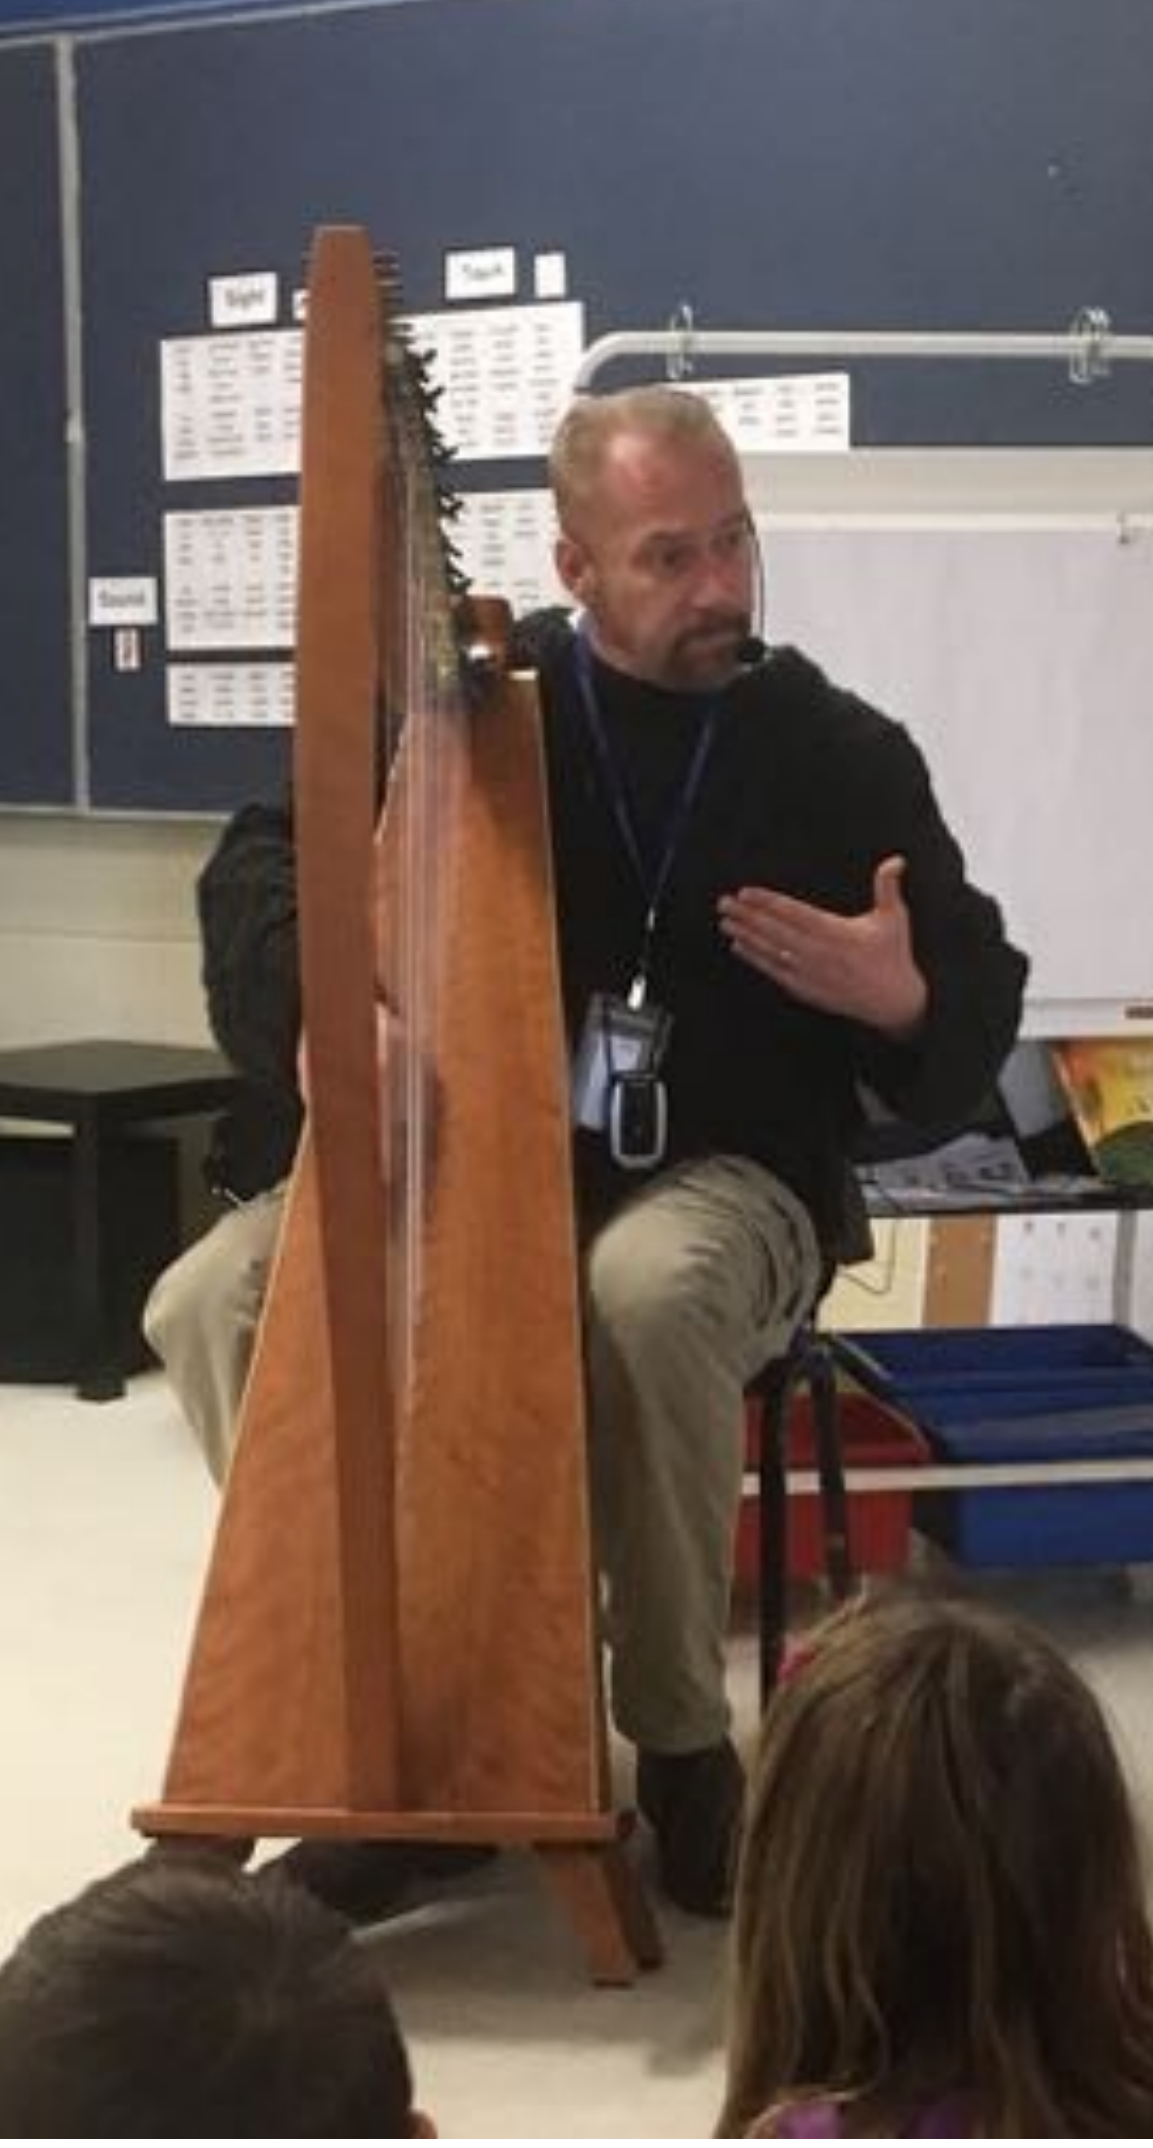

SUSPENSIVE

STORIES

“I liked how he didn't have pictures for his stories. My imagination got to make the pictures.”

~ Ashton

“I learned that you HAVE to tell stories!”

~ Lenya

“But most of all, I was moved (to tears actually) at how students adjusted, adapted, and persisted with challenges in the learning process. This was especially evident as I watched students carefully and respectfully encourage those who were particularly nervous.”

Parent

STORYteller

Jeff Stockton

